Fire Seriously Damages New Bridge Over Little Wabash River

Wooden Forms Holding Concrete For Span Burned

NEW HAVEN, Ill. — A fire swept from end to end of a bridge being built near here and caused serious damage to the structure Wednesday night.

A spark from a cutting torch set fire to wooden forms holding the concrete of the new bridge over the Little Wabash River. The flames spread to straw covering the concrete and soon the entire 561-foot span was blazing.

Traffic Deaths In February Tie Month's Record

CHICAGO — February traffic deaths tied the month's all-time record, the National Safety Council said today.

The council reported that 2,630 persons died in traffic last month, equalling the record-breaking February of 1941 and 1952.

The month's toll was 16 per cent greater than that of last year's February—the largest monthly percentage increase since June, 1951.

It also boosted the death toll for the first two months of 1956 to 5,590—500 more than 1955's comparable period.

February was the 12th straight month to have a bigger death count than the same month of the year before.

Council President Ned H. Dearborn said, "Deaths are now going up faster than the increase in travel, so the only conclusion is that people are driving more carelessly."

Despite the bad record, 331 cities have perfect 1956 records and 421 had deathless February records.

The three largest perfect record cities are Flint, Mich., Arlington, Va., and Erie, Pa. The biggest cities keeping death off the record books during February were Dallas, Tex., Akron, Ohio, and Omaha, Neb.

Sixteen states also cut the death rate from the preceding February. Rhode Island had the best record with a 54 per cent slash, followed by Minnesota with 44 per cent and North Dakota with 36 per cent.

Explosion Rocks Philadelphia; Three Missing

56 Persons, 11 Of Them Firemen, Injured in Blast

PHILADELPHIA — Rescue workers searched today for the bodies of three men believed buried under tons of rubble in an explosion which rocked two square miles of West Philadelphia Wednesday night.

Fire Chief William Eckles said the three men were missing and presumed dead. Fifty-six persons, including 11 firemen, were injured.

Many of the injured said they barely escaped flying concrete and stone blasted from a grain elevator and four silos which were flattened by the blast.

Anthony Karnell, manager of a restaurant in the block next to the explosion, said glass and rubble showered over the 30 patrons in his restaurant when the explosion occurred.

"It looked like all hell was breaking loose, and I hollered to everybody to get out in a hurry," he said.

Mrs. Margaret Connell, 40, said she was knocked down four times by shock waves.

"The fourth time I couldn't get up. I just lay there stunned," she said. "Then a policeman was bending over helping me up. I don't remember being brought to the hospital."

A. P. Tallent, 33, a fireman for the Pennsylvania Railroad, said he saw flames shoot from the grain elevator.

"It started to mushroom like an atomic bomb," he said.

For a few minutes he said he thought the explosion was an atomic blast and feared the mushrooming ball of fire would engulf him.

The three men missing in the explosion were identified as Edward Johnson, 26, Philadelphia, a new employee at the elevator, and Bayren Weldon and Arthur Harold, truck drivers employed by the John Reginald Trucking Co., Millville, N. J.

Frank Morgan and Dominick Malachi, employees of the Railway Express Agency who were on the police missing list all night, were discovered unharmed today after they worked with company employees through the night.

Youth Pleads Guilty To Extortion Note To Brother, Sister

SPRINGFIELD — John L. Day, 17, Pontiac, pleaded guilty Wednesday to attempted extortion of $5,000 from an elderly brother and sister who lived across the street from him.

Day, a high school junior, asked probation, and Federal Judge Charles G. Bringle referred the case to a probation officer for investigation.

Fred Hall, 70, and his sister, Mary, 65, received an extortion note Dec. 16, 1955, demanding that they place $5,000 in small bills in a cloth bag and leave it near a farm home northeast of Pontiac.

The note threatened the Hall's lives. Day never tried to pick up the money. He was arrested by FBI agents who traced the note to him through the purple ribbon used on the typewriter on which the note was written.

Farmers Blockade Milk to Detroit

DETROIT —Picketing farmers today halted 14 tank trucks at the main Michigan Milk Producers Assn. depot at Imlay City to cut off Detroit's milk flow from eastern Michigan receiving stations.

It marked the first time that the farmers, members of the Fair Share Bargaining Assn., had succeeded in threatening Detroit's milk supply since they started picketing Monday to back up demands for a 45 per cent price increase from Detroit creameries.

'New' Stevenson Ready for Toe-To-Toe Slugging with Kefauver

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Adlai E. Stevenson, bent on a comeback after his Minnesota defeat, displayed himself before California voters today as a candidate now ready for toe-to-toe slugging with Sen. Estes Kefauver.

But while the "new" Stevenson was showing a willingness to club Kefauver, he was also professing to be "just plain mad" about suggestions that he spend more time shaking hands and less discussing issues.

Stevenson returned to California Wednesday for a 2-day campaign tour in the state where he faces Kefauver in their biggest primary test June 5. And in a Los Angeles television address Wednesday night he showed none of his previous reluctance to engage in a personality clash with Kefauver.

Cites "Political Bosses"

Stevenson accused Kefauver of trying to "injure me." He said Kefauver did this by labeling party leaders backing Stevenson as "sinister political bosses."

But Kefauver would not reply to Stevenson's charge. He said that he did not "intend to say anything disparaging about Mr. Stevenson" and had "asked my supporters not to join in any criticism of him."

Kefauver, who has just finished a week's tour of California, campaigned in Arizona Wednesday. He scheduled stops today at Albuquerque and Santa Fe, N. M., en route back to Washington.

His headquarters announced that he will leave Sunday night for four days of campaigning in Florida, where he is matched against Stevenson in the primary May 29. He will fly next Thursday to Nebraska, another state in which he may enter a presidential primary. He already is entered in 11.

At Winston-Salem, N.C., Wednesday night, a southern Democratic congressman suggested a new possibility for his party's nomination "if there should be a deadlock" between Stevenson and Kefauver. Rep. Thurmond Chatham said he thinks that Gen. Alfred Gruenther, commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces, would be an "excellent choice" as a compromise candidate.

Stevenson said in his Los Angeles speech that Kefauver's tactic of putting a "boss" label on pro-Stevenson was nonsense.

"Here in California as in New Hampshire and Minnesota," Stevenson said, "the endorsement of the leaders of our party evidently becomes reprehensible only when the senator doesn't get it."

Marion Cop Is Suspended

MARION, Ill. — Policeman Herman Burnett was temporarily suspended by the Marion City Council Wednesday night for firing two shots at the auto of a high school student.

The suspension followed a public hearing where Burnett admitted he struck Robert Poole, 17, in the face with his revolver when he said the boy resisted arrest.

Burnett, who was off duty at the time, admitted firing two shots at the car when he said Poole broke away from him and drove off. He said he intended to hit the tires, but the bullets pierced the fenders.

Burnett said the trouble started when he tried to arrest a motorcyclist. He said Poole drove up in his auto and cursed at him, refusing to go home when told to and even swinging at the officer. Burnett said he struck Poole after the youth struck at him.

Poole denied cursing and swinging first. He said he protested being arrested because he hadn't done anything and tried to break Burnett's grip on his arm.

Eldorado Eagles and Auxiliary to Stage Easter Egg Hunt for Children

The Eldorado Eagles lodge and Ladies' Auxiliary will stage an Easter egg hunt Saturday morning at Mahoney park in Eldorado, starting at 10 o'clock.

This is an annual affair and last year three hundred or more children roamed through the park hunting the six hundred colored eggs that had been hidden in the grass. A similar number of children and eggs are expected again this year.

To make the hunt more exciting some of the eggs are marked for theater tickets and other prizes, all made possible by the Eagles.

All kids in the area are invited to take part in the fun.

NBC Uses Private Corporation for Weather Reports

NBC-TV and NBC Radio are the only networks using a private corporation to obtain weather predictions and reports.

The private firm, the Weather Corporation of America, located in St. Louis, uses the combined services of the Weather Bureau, the Air Force, the Navy and Coast Guard, plus daily reports from foreign countries and ships at sea, and additional reports from the Civil Aeronautics Authority telegrams.

Every six hours W.C.A. receives extensive reports from all over the North American continent and from the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. Their staff then analyzes the reports, predicts the weather for the next six-hour period and teletypes the data to NBC.

This specialized private service has received favorable comment from the public, according to William R. McAndrew, director of NBC News, particularly in connection with predictions concerning Hurricane Connie, when NBC continued broadcasting an alert after other agencies had withdrawn the warning.

In addition to supplying normal temperature, humidity and general climatic conditions for the whole country, W.C.A. also provides NBC News with tides, wave heights and foreign city temperatures.

British Laborite Claims Americans Paid To Sabotage Airliner

LONDON (U.P.)—A Labor Party member of Parliament charged in Commons today that Americans "indirectly" paid a Chinese Nationalist $112,000 to sabotage an airliner carrying Chinese Communists at Hong Kong last year.

Laborite John Baird charged in Commons that "Americans" had indirectly paid a Chinese Nationalist mechanic at Hong Kong airport 40,000 pounds ($112,000) to sabotage an Air India Constellation carrying Red Chinese delegates to the Bandung conference. The money was actually paid to the saboteur by the Nationalist Kuomintang intelligence agency, Baird said.

Nationalists Trade with Reds, Hoover Claims

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Senate investigators asked Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. today to explain his statement that the Chinese Nationalists are conducting a multi-million-dollar trade with their Communist enemies.

Hoover, Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks and foreign aid chief John B. Hollister were called to a closed session of the Senate investigating subcommittee to give secret information on U. S. policy toward strategic East-West trade.

But attention suddenly shifted to Hoover's Monday statement that "the Chinese Nationalists are shipping to the Chinese Communists quite a number of millions of dollars worth of goods every year."

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) told reporters Hoover's statement was "completely false."

The State Department confirmed Wednesday there was a $2,900,000 trade between the two Chinas. But spokesman Lincoln White said it is only in non-strategic goods and goes through British Hong Kong instead of direct.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) told newsmen he did not know why Hoover thought the China trade worth mentioning since "it was in that small amount, and not strategic."

Democratic Voters:

For the past several years, I have served as Senatorial Committeeman from Saline county. Each county names a committeeman to serve on the District committee to determine the number of Representative nominees, and to fill vacancies in event of emergencies. I have always attempted to work for the best interest of the Democratic party.

Under the new legislative reapportionment, committeemen are elected as before, but are called Representative committeemen. I am a candidate for that office. It pays nothing, except the honor and the chance to be of service to the party. I will appreciate your vote for Representative committeeman at the April 10 primary.

Thinking It Over—For Lent

By Robert Diefenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Many years ago today the crowds forsook Jesus. Even the disciples who had been His closest friends denied Him or ceased to speak in His behalf. He stood alone before a hostile court of worldly politicians.

Judas had sold his friendship for a few pieces of silver. James and John went to sleep when He needed their friendship.

Do you remember when you have been in trouble and when no one offered to help? Do you remember the "fair weather friends" who deserted you when you had nothing to give them? Do you remember how lonely you were when you were in the depths of despair?

If we could but share even a small portion of the agony of loneliness of Jesus on that Thursday of Holy Week, we would bow our heads today in deep humility. We would pray as we have never prayed before. We would never again forsake those who needed us.

Have we been "fair weather friends"? Have we enjoyed the success of others, and accused them of failure in their hours of need? Are we still "walking out" on Jesus when He needs us to help some poor human being? Today is the most searching day of Lent.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Geary, 612 South Ledford, have received word that their son-in-law, Nathaniel Stewart of Detroit, Mich., has been released from a hospital there and is doing fine. His address is 4874 Algonquin, Detroit 15, Mich. A daughter, Anna Geary, who also has been seriously ill and in the hospital, is recuperating at her home in Detroit.

Miss Peggy Fulkerson, Charles H. Boner Wed at McKinley Avenue Baptist Church

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Boner

In a three o'clock double ring ceremony performed Sunday, March 18, by the Rev. J. D. McCarty at the McKinley Avenue Baptist church, Miss Peggy Jane Fulkerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Garland Fulkerson, 418 West Walnut, became the bride of Charles H. Boner, son of Mrs. Pearl Boner of Centralia and Howard Glen Boner of Normal, Ill.

The church altar was beautifully decorated with lighted tapers in white candelabra, jade and emerald greenery, and wedding vases of white gladioli and chrysanthemums tied with white satin bows.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of pink faille designed on princess lines and a small pink hat. She carried a white Bible given to her by her music teacher, Mrs. P. W. Sherman, on which was placed a white orchid surrounded by shasta daisies, pom poms and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Charles Keaton, close friend of the bride, of Brownstown, Ill., was matron of honor wearing a dress of blue and white silk jersey and a small blue and white hat. She carried a colonial bouquet of shasta daisies and pom poms with white satin ribbons.

Deon W. Ball, Centralia, was best man.

Ushers were Jerry Rhine of Carbondale and Walter Moore of Centralia.

Miss Nancy Ann Fulkerson, cousin of the bride, presided at the organ and played lovely wedding music at appropriate intervals throughout the service.

Mrs. Fulkerson chose for her daughter's wedding a powder blue dress with black accessories. Her flowers were gardenias.

The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of wedgewood blue poplin with pink accessories and a white camelia corsage.

Immediately after the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where the bride and bridegroom cut a lovely three-tiered wedding cake encircled with yellow chrysanthemums and huckleberry. White candles were placed in the center of the table. Hostesses were Mrs. W. B. Armstrong, Miss Pat White and Miss Sally McKenzie.

The bride is a student at Southern Illinois university from where she will graduate in June with a major in music. The bridegroom is also a student at S. I. U. and will graduate in August.

They are now residing in their apartment at 301½ North Washington in Carbondale.

Indiana Scientists Develop Chemical From Corn to Spray on Dirt Roads

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Some Indiana scientists have figured out how to waterproof the soil.
The chemical they have developed may one day be sprayed on dirt roads to make them sealed water as if they were paved.
DDAC, as the chemical is called, can be made from corn and George Craig of Indiana is giving serious attention to its possibilities. He believes it may help solve one of the Midwest's greatest farm problems—the surplus of corn.
Already, millions of bushels of corn are being burned for fuel. The surplus is a problem because it is driving down the price of the grain and hurting the farmer's income. DDAC is waiting to see how the soil holds up under a full year of freezing and thawing and wind and rain.
Many Different Types
Craig is enthusiastic. "I believe the corn-bog economy of the Midwest is dead and with the market for huge shrinking the corn belt has to find another end product. If DDAC proves successful it will

Opens Catholic Church Observance Of Holy Thursday

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII blessed 15,000 persons today to open the Roman Catholic Church's observance of Holy Thursday in commemoration of Christ's Last Supper.
The white-clad 80-year-old pontiff appeared at the fourth floor window of his studio to bestow his blessing on the first thousands of Easter pilgrims to assemble in St. Peter's Square.
Most significant ceremony of the day was one of the oldest church rites, the stripping of the papal altar.

The ceremony is symbolic of Christ washing the feet of his apostles at the Last Supper.
LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth distributed coins to the poor people of London today in a centuries old ceremony that once required that the monarch also wash their feet.
Thirty men and 30 women—one man and one woman for each year of the Queen's life—received specially minted coins of "Maundy silver" in ceremonial purses handed out by Queen Elizabeth at Westminster Abbey.

Rev. H. O. Cook will bring the evening message and the pastor, Rev. Willard Fritts, invites the general public to attend.

Big Three Study Soviet Plan For 'Open Skies'

LONDON (AP)—The Western Big Three and Canada began an intensive study today of the latest Soviet disarmament proposal which appeared to embrace President Eisenhower's "open skies" inspection plan.

U. S. Delegate Harold Stassen withheld American comment on the plan until next week when the study is completed and Western opinion united.

French, British and Canadian delegates to the United Nations Disarmament subcommittee meeting here also declined to remark on the plan.

Informed sources said the fact that the Soviets accepted in principle the need for international inspection, as proposed by President Eisenhower in his plan for aerial inspection, was encouraging.

The sources were non-committal about the fact that the Russians, for the first time since World War II, did not demand abolition of nuclear weapons. In fact, the sources said, the Russians did not even mention the atomic or hydrogen bombs when they presented their proposals.

Option Land in Colorado for Pulp Mill Site

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—The Allied Paper Mills of Kalamazoo, Mich., has taken an option on 122 acres of land near New Castle in western Colorado as the possible site of a pulp mill.

The land was disclosed today.

Alfred also revealed it plans to submit a bid for a contract on 275,000 acres of timber near Glenwood Springs, Colo., not far from the New Castle site, which the government is offering for sale.

Bids on the timber contract will be opened by the U. S. Forest Service in Denver April 17.

Allied, a division of the Thor Corp., Chicago, said it planned to build a pulp mill to manufacture newsprint on the site if it won the contract.

Bill to Exempt Farm
Gasoline from Tax
Goes to White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed and sent to the White House today a compromise bill to enable farmers to get refunds of the federal tax on gasoline they use in raising crops.

The measure, retroactive to Jan. 1, will save farmers an estimated 60 million dollars a year. It was recommended by President Eisenhower as one phase of his overall program to aid farmers.

Kefauver Backers Decide Against Write-In Campaign in Illinois Primary

CHICAGO (U)—Backers of Sen. Estes Kefauver announced today they have decided against waging an all-out drive for write-in votes in the Illinois primary election April 10.

The only name on the Illinois Democratic ballot for president will be that of Adlai E. Stevenson. The possibility of a statewide drive for write-ins for Kefauver has been under discussion since the Tennessee senator upset Stevenson in the Minnesota primary March 20.

A. Bradley Eben, vice chairman of Kefauver's national campaign committee, and Herbert Lockwood, head of the Illinois Kefauver clubs, said they had "carefully explored" the write-in picture.

"We'd like to," Eben said, "but we're short on organization and short on money here in Illinois. And we'd be short on time to campaign, too."

Instead of launching a county-by-county write-in drive, Eben said, Kefauver leaders here will confine their efforts to "encouraging" write-ins without any special campaign.

Eben said one reason Kefauver didn't enter his name on the Illinois ballot this year was that it was the home state of Stevenson, a fellow candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Eben noted, too, that the vote in the presidential primary here is not binding on the Illinois congressional delegates, who will be elected in separate balloting April 10.

Another factor in the decision against a write-in drive, he said, was the strength of the Democratic organization in Chicago, which is behind Stevenson.

Eben and Lockwood both predicted Kefauver will pick up a number of the 50 Democratic convention delegates to be elected April 10.

They said this number would range between 10 and 20, and it might increase by convention time if delegates switch their loyalties from Stevenson to Kefauver.

Mexican Ship Burns, Sinks; All Aboard Safe

CAMPECHE, Mexico (U)—All persons aboard a Mexican motor ship which burned and sank in the Bay of Campeche off the Yucatan peninsula were reported safe today.

American and Mexican Coast Guard craft sped to aid the 35 to 38 survivors of the Matul, which burned and sank Wednesday morning after an engine room explosion.

The last radio report from the doomed vessel said the passengers and crew members were taking to lifeboats and rafts. There were no known fatalities, but two passengers were reported slightly injured. Mexican navy officials said they were "greatly concerned" for the safety of the survivors.

The Matul was reported carrying 21 passengers, and 14 to 17 crewmen.

The scene of the disaster was about 60 miles off the Yucatan coast.

A Mexican navy Catalina flying boat engaged in rescue operations broke a propeller and was unable to take off after reaching the scene.

The U. S. Coast Guard cutter Vayone, the Mexican cutter Virgilio Uribe, and several fishing boats also were dispatched to the scene to help.

Earlier, an empty life raft "full of holes" and burned pieces of wood were found floating in the water near the scene, 550 miles south-southwest of New Orleans, La.

Sachs Promises Sweeping Economies If He is Elected

WASHINGTON (U)—Rep. William H. Ayres (R-Ohio) charged today that a disabled ex-Army sergeant was fired from the House folding room to make a job for John Maragon, former White House hanger-on who served time for perjury in a congressional investigation of "five percenters."

"If Democratic leadership wants to take care of their ex-convicts this way, there's very little that can be done about it," said Ayres in a statement. "I suppose we can look for Alger Hiss to be added to the staff of the House Un-American Activities Committee. I for one, however, protest."

Maragon, one-time bootblack who rose to close association with White House aides under the administration of former President Truman, served 19 months of a 2-year sentence for perjury as a result of a congressional inquiry five years ago.

He went on the temporary payroll of the folding room, at $1.61 an hour, Tuesday. It was his first regular job since he was released from the Federal Reformatory at Petersburg, Va., in December, 1952.

Rep. Herman P. Eberhart (D-Pa.) said he wrote a letter to the Democratic Patronage Committee recommending Maragon for the folding room job. Eberhart said he thought Maragon "would be an energetic worker and a faithful employee."

Ayres said veteran Ralph Scalzo was fired from his folding room post after three years of good service.

Communists, Daily Worker Ready to Pay Deposit on Taxes

NEW YORK (U)—Attorneys for the Communist Party and the Daily Worker said today they were prepared to deposit immediately with the government the "few hundred dollars" they believe will buy them back into the premises from which they were evicted in tax raids Tuesday.

The lawyers expected to meet with District Director of Internal Revenue Donald R. Moysey to reach agreement on how much of the government's $455,341 tax claims is covered by the office furnishings.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

A look through the Southern Illinois university spring sports book reveals that SIU will have teams competing in baseball, track, tennis, golf and gymnastics this spring and that spring football practice will be held for a month. That sort of a program should keep practically all athletically minded boys busy.

The baseball team is already in action, having started a southern trip March 19. The final game in the southland is listed with Arkansas State Saturday. First home game is slated for Saturday, April 21, with Northern Illinois the visiting club. It will be a doubleheader, starting at 1:30 p. m. Games are played on the Chautauqua street diamond, two blocks west of the University library.

Only Saline county player listed on the roster is Jim Beasley, outfielder from Eldorado.

SIU's track schedule starts April 6, when Western Illinois visits Southern's stadium. The meet starts at 3 p. m. The team captain is Sammie DeNeal of Harrisburg, 440-yard dash wizard.

DeNeal is the only Saline county runner among the returning lettermen and only one other Saline county native is listed on the track roster—David Lightfoot of Stonefort is one of the few freshmen listed on the roster. He is a distance runner.

DeNeal holds the SIU 440-yard record. He covered the distance in 49.2 in 1955. DeNeal also was a member of the record making mile relay team. In 1955 the mile relay team set a new record of 3:24.2.

Gene Peyton, former Carrier Mills flash, is co-holder of three SIU records. Peyton and four others have been timed in the 100-yard dash at 10.9. Peyton is co-holder of the 220-yard dash with Charles Struss at 21.4. Peyton holds the 220-yard low hurdle record alone with a time of 23.9.

Quentin Stinson of Eldorado set the discus record at SIU in 1948 with a heave of 147 feet, 7 1/2 inches.

The golf roster lists one Saline county—Richard Vinyard of Harrisburg. No one from Saline county is on the tennis roster.

Getting closer to home in discussing spring sports, I believe Harrisburg will have a complete baseball and track program and probably carry on a limited tennis program. The baseball season started Tuesday with a victory over Galatia.

Galatia's coach Gene Dunn hopes to have track in addition to baseball. Last fall Galatia was strong in cross country and Dunn hopes to at least get a distance medley team together.

Coach Claude Shelton also hopes to add track to the baseball program. For the past couple of years he has given track a chance, but there hasn't been much interest. Baseball prospects are good. Carrier Mills won the district title in 1955 and lost only two or three players by graduation.

Ridgway's CM next Tuesday, with Thompsonville the visitors. Eldorado always goes in strong for track. This season 70 candidates are working out, including 40 freshmen. This may be one of the weaker Eldorado track teams in years, as there are only seven returning lettermen.

Shawneetown will play baseball. Coach Darwin Vatter expects to field a strong team.

Ridgway's Coach Bob Dallas is a baseball man and certain to have an entry in the diamond sport. Also is interested in track, according to info picked up.

Equality's spring sports program is uncertain. The baseball field is rutted and the track practically non-existent. Coach "Kay" Willis said recently "We may not take part in any program this spring."

Warriors, Pistons Favored to Advance To Playoff Finals

By United Press

The Fort Wayne Pistons and Philadelphia Warriors are favored to score victories on their home courts tonight and thus advance to the final round of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Both semifinal series are deadlocked at 2-2. The Pistons, after dropping the first two games, made a brilliant comeback to take the next two and now are picked to win the "big one" over the St. Louis Hawks. The Philadelphia Syracuse series has followed the home-court pattern.

In Wednesday night's only action Syracuse evened the count in the eastern finals by nipping the Warriors, 108-104, at Syracuse.

Syracuse had a 12-point lead early in the fourth quarter, 88-74, but the Warriors rallied and Joe Graboski's three-point play with one minute left narrowed the gap to one point, 103-102. That's where Ed Conlin, the rookie from Fordham came through again with a free throw and a field goal to clinch matters.

Musial, with Double, Two Singles, Leads Cardinals To 13-4 Victory Over Reds

By United Press

Stan Musial wasn't fooling when he said he was "going all out" to win his seventh National league batting title this year.

The great St. Louis Cardinal slugger laughed when he said he "had to win the title because I haven't had a raise in salary in five years," but there's nothing funny to NL pitchers today about his 358 Grapefruit league batting average.

Musial had one of his best days of the spring Wednesday when he blasted a double and two singles to drive in three runs and lead the Cardinals to a 13-4 thrashing of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Willie Mays, singled out by Musial as likely to be one of his principal rivals for the title, weighed in with his seventh home run of the opening and 1954 World Series hero Dusty Rhodes clouted No. 5 to give the New York Giants a 6-5 decision over the Baltimore Orioles.

Larry Doby, another tremendous spring hitter, blasted his sixth homer but it wasn't enough as the Milwaukee Braves tallied four times against 15-game winner Billy Pierce in the first inning and went on to down the Chicago White Sox, 7-4.

Ted Kuszewski went hitless in two at bats as the Cincinnati Redlegs' "B" squad beat Nashville, 4-0, but the big first-sacker reported his ailing left hip did not bother him and held out hope that he would be able to open the season.

Center fielder Mickey Mantle pulled the hamstring muscle in his right leg—the same one that sidelined him in the 1955 World Series—and second-baseman Billy Martin retired after he was bumped in a play at second base in

Hungary Admits Five Red Leaders Executed in '49 Purge were Innocent

VIENNA, Austria — Communist Hungary admitted today that former Foreign Minister László Rajk and four other Red leaders were "innocently tried and executed" in 1949 in one of the great Stalin era purges.

Rajk, the onetime police boss in Hungary who rose to even greater prestige as foreign minister in 1948 was executed in 1949 with four other Hungarian Communists as a traitor. Until today Hungary had held him up as one of its worst examples.

Radio Budapest announced today the Supreme Court of the Communist nation had re-examined his trial and "rehabilitated" him and the other four victims of the purge. The Communists have used the term to mean restoring some one's good name.

Quotes Rakosi Speech

The radio quoted a speech by Matyas Rakosi, the Communist boss of Hungary and first secretary of the Hungarian Workers (Communist) Party at a party meeting at Eger. He admitted they had been wrongly tried and executed as state enemies.

Rajk was the first major Communist leader in a satellite state to be "rehabilitated" since the recent Communist Party Congress in Moscow started its campaign to downgrade Josef Stalin and to repair some of the "enormous" harm he did.

Rajk "confessed" during his trial that he and his companions were conspiring with Yugoslavia to overthrow the Communist regime in Hungary. Rakosi's speech broadcast today strongly indicated the alleged confession was a forgery.

The speech, also published in today's "Szabad Nep," the central organ of the Communist Party of Hungary, showed Hungary was falling in line with Russia in confessing the errors of Stalin's "cult of personality."

Student Shoots ROTC Instructor, Then Kills Self

MINNEAPOLIS — A University of Minnesota student, his dream of an Army career shattered by low grades, shot his ROTC instructor three times and then killed himself Wednesday.

Police said ex-soldier Wayne P. Mohan, 24, armed himself with two guns and waited in a parking lot for Capt. Francis L. Franklin, 35, an instructor in the reserve officer training program.

He fired five times, hitting Franklin in the head, chest, and groin.

Then he ran down the street to the University Museum of Natural History and into a basement washroom. He shot himself in the head and died instantly.

Franklin staggered to his car and leaned on its horn until help came. He underwent two hours of surgery and was reported in good condition today.

Mohan, a Winona, Minn., junior, had his heart set on becoming an Army officer, his friends and relatives said. He had served in the Army from 1948 to 1953, seeing service in Turkey, and three of his brothers are in the service.

Mohan's hopes were dashed when he was placed on probation and disqualified from the military science course because of low grades. He heard the news Tuesday.

Fellow students said Mohan bought one of his two guns Monday, but gave not hint that he planned to shoot Franklin.

Iceland Asks Treaty Revision

REYKJAVIK, Iceland — The Icelandic parliament has called for a revision of the treaty by which North Atlantic Treaty organization armed forces are stationed in this tiny country.

The decision was taken by the Althing parliament Wednesday shortly before it adjourned. It helped provoke a split in the government coalition and led to the resignation of Premier Olafur Thors. The present cabinet, however, will remain in office as a caretaker government until new elections June 24.

The main effect of the resolution, if it is implemented, is that small American forces stationed at air bases here would be withdrawn. These are the only NATO forces in Iceland.

North Dakota's Non-Partisan League Switches to Democrats

BISMARCK, N. D. — North Dakota's Non-Partisan League broke a 40-year tradition today by voting to switch from the Republican to the Democratic column in filling its candidates in this year's elections.

The action was taken on the 40th anniversary of the league's organization.

A standing vote at the league's state endorsing convention here was about 150-7 in favor of the change.

Some leaders of the Non-Partisan League have been trying for several years to effect the shift to the Democrats. Political sources here saw their success this year as a protest against the Eisenhower-Benson farm program.

French Shell Arab Outlaws

ALGIERS — The French navy turned its big guns on Arab outlaws in Algeria Wednesday in a "tripling invasion" that developed into one of the bloodiest battles of the hit-and-run guerrilla war, it was announced today.

The 6-inch guns of the cruiser Georges Leygues pounded guerrilla infested hills near Collo, 200 miles east of here, and fighter planes strafed suspected outlaw hideouts while marines swarmed ashore from landing craft. Inland, tough Senegalese troops marched to cut off the Arabs' retreat.

The Collo battle accounted for 64 of the 111 persons reported killed in Algeria Wednesday — 4 Frenchmen and at least 60 Arabs. Seven French soldiers were slain in a guerrilla ambush 40 miles east of Constantine, and 40 other persons were slain in scattered clashes.

Fernch authorities identified one recent victim of Arab banditry here as an American citizen, identified only as Ben Ali Zenzabail, who was murdered apparently because he refused to give money to the guerrillas.

Zenzabail, whose American address was unavailable, had been living with his family here for about a year.

Five Children Killed When Fire Razes Farm Home

CASSELMAN, Ont. — Five children ranging in age from two months to 5 years were killed Wednesday night when fire razed their farm home in this community 35 miles southeast of Ottawa.

A sixth child, and the mother were in a nearby barn when the fire broke out and were unhurt.

The victims were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Alcide Quesnel. They were Helen, 5, Jean-Guy, 4, Claude, 2, and 2-months old twins Francois and Francoise.

Quesnel, 24, works in a general store at St. Isidore. The house was gutted and the children were dead when he arrived home.

Ontario provincial police said they did not know how the fire started.

The 22-year-old mother told police she was in a barn with her sixth child, 3-year old Gerald, when the fire started. She smelled smoke and heard the crackle of flames too late to save the children in the frame house.

GRAY CONFERS WITH EVANGELIST BILLY GRAHAM—Congressman Kenneth J. Gray (D), 25th District, Illinois is pictured above with Evangelist Billy Graham. The picture was taken in the Nation's Capitol where Congressman Gray and the famed Evangelist discussed Reverend Graham's recent visit to India and parts of the Middle East. Gray said Reverend Graham was very much concerned about the strife between several Middle Eastern countries. Graham told the Congressman that his meetings in India were very successful. Gray told Reverend Graham that he was "contributing much to world peace through his Christian teachings". Pictured in the background with the Southern Illinois Congressman and the Evangelist is Senator Frank Carlson (R) of Kansas (center) and Congressman W. L. Hull, Jr., (D) of Missouri.

SCHOOL MEN from throughout southern Illinois attended a recent School Administrators Workshop at Giant City State Park. Complete Plans For Easter Service At Williams Hill

Plans and preparations have been made for the outdoor Easter service at Williams Hill tower, April 1, at 3 p. m. Williams Hill is located in the heart of scenic southern Illinois and is the highest point in this section of the state, in the foothills of the Ozarks. Access to the hill and parking is good making it an ideal spot for an outdoor service. It will be a union service sponsored by the American Sunday School Union under the direction of the Rev. James Johnson, field missionary. Mr. Johnson states that the program is unique this year with only Christian young people participating. It should attract both young and old, he said, to hear young people witness of the resurrection in this day of juvenile delinquency. The speaker will be Dwight Link, student of Trinity Seminary and Bible College, Chicago. Mr. Link has appeared on a radio program in Chicago combatting teenage delinquency. Group singing will be led by Howard Matson, trumpeter and student at Wright Jr. College, Chicago. The organist will be Miss Jane Johnson, missionary student in the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago. Miss Johnson is a member of the symphony orchestra of M. B. I. and active in young people's work in that city. Special music will be furnished by Bob and Sally

Jobless Benefit Payments Now $10-$40 Under New Amendment

Jobless payments of from $10 to $40 a week are now payable to qualified unemployed Illinois workers under an amendment to the State Unemployment Compensation law approved by Governor Stratton last June 30, Director of Labor Roy F. Cummins announced today.

Heretofore, benefit payments were limited to a maximum of $27 a week.

Cummins pointed out that, under the 1955 amendment, five different ceilings are placed on the top amount an individual claimant can collect for a week of total unemployment. These ceilings are as follows: $28 for a claimant who has no non-working spouse and no dependent child; $31 for a claimant who has a non-working spouse, or one dependent child, or both; $34 for a claimant who has two dependent children; $37 for a claimant who has three dependent children; $40 for a claimant who has four or more dependent children.

Total benefits payable to an individual, Cummins said, range from 10 to 26 times the claimant's weekly benefit amount in the one-year period starting with the date of his claim and are figured on the amount of his wages for work covered by the law during a past 12-month "base period."

To qualify for minimum benefit payments the claimant must, under the law, have been paid at least $550 for insured work, of which at least $150 must have been received outside the calendar quarter of the base period in which his wages were highest.

In addition, the law requires that to be eligible for benefit payments all claimants must be able to work, actively seeking work, available for (ready to accept) full-time suitable work, and registered for work with the Illinois State Employment Service.

A Thing of the Past

Editorial — BY BRUCE BOSSAT

One of the realities of this world in 1936 is that border incidents no longer are a reasonable excuse for starting a war. This is as true in the Middle East as anywhere else.
Recently there has been renewed trouble at various points along the Israeli-Arab country borders.
Tension is high, and charges are flying thick and fast.

No one interested in the peace of the world would dismiss these incidents as trivial. They are symptomatic of a deep conflict in that part of the globe.

But if either side in this dispute were to use the persistence of border clashes as justification for war, it would forfeit the moral support of the whole free world.

For sane men must surely know that pinpricks at the borders in a regional dispute will hardly appeal to world opinion as good cause for fighting that could flare into general war.

Should Israel or the Arab lands launch major fighting in the Middle East, it would be because the aggressor wants war with all its risks.

There could be no pretense that surface irritations at the border had become "intolerable."

If Egypt and its Arab allies want war, it could only be because they are totally unreconciled to the indefinite existence of Israel as an independent state.

If Israel should seek war, it would be primarily because the Israeli recognize Arab hostility for what it is and believe "preventive" military action might be the only path to security as a nation.

These are root causes, not surface signs. They supply the real motivation for the petty aggres-sions which now make the headlines.

The task of the United States and other Western nations is to help these inflamed disputants see the gravity of the peril they have created.

Consumed by national and religious passions, they are moving blindly ahead without sober recognition of the dangers they have stirred for all men.

They must understand not only that the West will move militarily to choke off any war that develops,
but that no decent men anywhere will have the faintest sympathy for the aggressor.

Eating and the Surplus

The Family Economics Bureau
of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company has come up with some figures that throw real light on America's now chronic wheat surplus.

Last year 165 million Americans consumed almost the same total quantity of wheat for food that 91 million people did in 1909. Consumption of about 475 million bushels must be set, however, against a 1935 production of 938 million bushels and a 1931-35 average output of more than one billion bushels.

This staggering gap is explained by the fact that the average American now consumes less than 2 bushels of wheat for food a year, while in 1919 he consumed 5 1-5 bushels. Our national diet has shifted from heavy dependence on grains to greater use of dairy products, eggs, meat, fruits and vegetables.

From this it can readily be seen how the position of U. S. wheat farmers in recent years has been so closely keyed to the export market. If that outlet is small, then under price support laws the government must pile up the excess in warehouses.

Volunteer Citizens Help Detect Visual Problems in Schools

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness said today 1,200 volunteer citizens are being trained each year to help detect visual problems of Illinois school children.

Mrs. Ben Humphries Gray, executive secretary, said the volunteers give eye tests to school children under the supervision of school nurses.

She said that 5,000 volunteers were trained during the last eight years and 3,000 of these citizens are still active.

Looks Like We've Run Out of Road

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON SAYS:

Tax Agents Had Constant Roadblocks Put In Path Of Texas Tax Probe; Secretary
Morgenthau Wanted Thorough Investigation; FDR And Lyndon Johnson Killed It.

WASHINGTON. — If you want to investigate income-tax irregularities, you should investigate a doctor, a small businessman, or an unimportant congressman.

Don't tangle with a big corporation or a potent congressman.

That is the advice I would give internal revenue agents who want to go places.

To illustrate, here is the careful chronological record of internal revenue agents in Texas when they tried to investigate the taxes of the biggest contracting firm in the South, Brown and Root, which built the Corpus Christi Naval Air Base, the Marshall dam, part of the present U. S. naval and air bases in Spain and whose partners dominate Texas Eastern Pipeline, Algonquin Pipeline and Texas
Eastern Production.

On June 22, 1942, the tax agents first met in San Antonio. Those present were George K. De Shazo, W. C. Jackson, E. C. Werner and William Belatoe. They worked under special agent James C.
Cooner in charge of intelligence in Texas and Louisiana. Later, agents
A. I. Smith, William Malone and Alexander Morris joined in the case.

On Oct. 23, after many weeks of digging, the agents discovered evidence of a false profit distribution
by a Brown and Root subsidiary, Victoria Gravel Co., in the form of fictitious lawyer's fees to Edgar Monteith, which he used for contributions to the Lyndon Johnson senatorial campaign, as previously reported in this column.

BROWN AND ROOT COMPLAIN

Oct. 20 — A call came to Dallas from Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy Helvering in Washington that Brown and Root complained the tax probe was hindering their war work. The agents were instructed to hold up their investigation pending further word from Washington. The complaint in Washington came immediately after Brown and Root's attorney, Edgar Monteith, was interviewed.

Nov. 24 — Special Agent in Charge Cooner received a message from Chief of Intelligence W.
H. Woolf in Washington, "not to openly resume the investigation until you get the go-ahead from Washington."

Dec. 17 — Dallas was instructed to send the entire Brown and Root file to Norman Cann, assistant commissioner of internal revenue in Washington.

Jan. 12, 1943 — Agents W. C.
Jackson, J. M. Cooner and E. C.
Werner were ordered to Washington and held three days of conferences with Cann and Chief of Intelligence Woolf.

Jan. 14 — Assistant Commissioner Cann instructed the agents to proceed with the Brown and Root case but to be "diplomatic." They were to interview no outside persons, only those within the Brown and Root organization.

June 23 — After six months of "diplomatic" investigation, during which various irregularities, previously reported in this column,
were uncovered, the agents were again summoned to Washington.
They were finally instructed to complete their investigation of Brown and Root's books for the years 1940-41 and to make such inquiries as necessary for a complete investigation.

MORGENTHAU SAYS GO-AHEAD

During the ensuing months, revenue agents began digging into the big bonuses paid to Brown and Root executives, either just prior to or during the Lyndon Johnson primary. Bonuses to executives are a frequent device used by corporations to mask campaign contributions; and the agents were interested in the following large bonuses:

W. A. Woolsey, vice president,
$45,000; L. T. Bolin, vice president, $25,000; J. M. Dellinger, vice president, $28,800; Robert Thomas, vice president, $35,000; J. T. Duke, treasurer, $17,000.

The agents reported to Washington that although these bonuses were authorized under minutes of a company meeting Dec. 27, 1940,
they had evidence that the minutes were fraudulent and had been written afterward in order to justify withdrawals for the Johnson campaign.

On Nov. 3, '43, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, a conscientious public servant, sent word that the Brown and Root case was to be "handled as any other case" and the "investigation was to proceed in any manner the agents saw fit."

After this, the agents dug deeper into the evidence of political contributors.

Dec. 22 — The Dallas office was warned that Washington was complaining again.

ROOSEVELT SAYS NO

Jan. 1, 1944 — J. M. Cooner warned agents to be "extra tactful because of complaints which were being registered in Washington relative to investigation of political donations."

Jan. 13 — Congressman Johnson and Alvin Wirtz, attorney for Brown and Root, called on President Roosevelt.

At 4:30 p. m. of the same day,
Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Irey phoned Dallas that he had to be at the White House at 10
next morning to give a full report to the President, as a result of the meeting with Johnson and Wirtz. Irey wanted a summary of the Brown and Root case teletyped to him by 9 a. m. Jan. 14.

Jan. 14 — At 7:50 the chief points in the Brown and Root case were teletyped to Washington.

However, the teletype broke down and part of the information was telephoned direct to Irey with his secretary, Mrs. Williams, taking notes. Irey informed Dallas that one criticism made in Washington was that tax agents had been making inquiries about Speaker Sam Rayburn. This was not the fact.

Jan. 17 — A new agent was sent to Dallas from Atlanta and after a series of conferences, the Brown and Root assessment was scaled down from $1,062,184.87 plus a

Middle East Crisis May Lead to War

Editor's Note: The United Press has sent one of its top correspondents on a tour thru the seething Mideast to report on the likelihood of a new Arab-Jewish war.

By PETER WEBB

United Press Staff Correspondent
NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Will there be a war in the Middle East?

Among people who know the Arab-Jewish situation closeup, about 55 per cent say yes.

When is war likely to break out
if it does? This spring.

Here on this strategic Mediterranean island the opinion is:

Neither the Arabs nor the Jews are intent on launching an outright attack. The danger is that one side or the other may reach the point of no return because of raids or border flare-ups.

Today the Mideast is aflame with controversy, and there is a real threat that the flames will eat their way to a powder keg—
the boundaries that Israel has with her enemies.

The Jews are convinced there will be war.

Every week sees war equipment moving in Egypt. MIG15 jet fighters from Czechoslovakia. Russian-made Ilyushin-28 jet bombers. Russian Stalin heavy tanks.

Israel is outnumbered in mobilized military manpower by at least two to one. Now the balance in weapons is swinging to the Arabs.

Why should there be war? What factors push the Mideast toward it?

1. Arabs feel that Israel, while no bigger than New Jersey, has the power and wealth of the world community of Jews behind it and inevitably will expand.

2. Jewish plans to divert the waters of the River Jordan for irrigation. Egypt's Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser has said that will be an act of aggression.

3. Wounds have never healed from the 1948-49 Jewish-Arab war.
Particularly rankling is the problem of Arab refugees.

4. Some Jewish factions exhort Israel to wage "preventive war"
while she still can win.

5. British influence over Jordan's Arab Legion was removed with firing of Gen. Sir John Bagot Glubb and removal of 50 other top British officers.

fraud penalty of $531,092.45, to $372,000. Proposals for prosecution were dropped.

Note — Senator Johnson, in intervening at the White House, probably did what many senators would do for a potent constituent who had helped their campaign.
The irony is that having been the victim of the high cost of a Senate primary, the senator now opposes regulation of campaign contributions in primaries.

SIU Takes Lead In Conference for All-Sports Trophy

Southern Illinois university has taken the lead in the battle for the Interstate conference all-sports trophy.

The Salukis have amassed 31 points at the completion of four of the eight league sports.

Michigan Normal won the trophy last year with 60 points.

Points are awarded on the relative positions of each team in the various sports. Two points are awarded for each position in football, basketball, baseball and track, with first place carrying 14 points. One point is given for each position in cross country, wrestling, tennis and golf, with seven for first place.

Out of a labor force of 70,000,
000 in the United States, 21,000,
000 are women, of whom 11,800,
000 are working wives, the Census Bureau says.

According to studies, 106 gallons of water are required to bring a helping of potatoes to the dinner table.

GMC brings you the most impressive improvements of all 1956 trucks

Now we can show you these great new GMC's that are further than ever ahead of all others. Their advances not only clinch power supremacy—but reach into fields still unexplored by other truck-makers.

For example, GMC's Road Shock Damper Suspension*—plus a unique new stabilizer—produces in half-ton models a ride comparable to the finest passenger car.

An optional new fast-ratio cruising axle in light-duty GMC's gives you an overdrive's pace and economy without its cost.

Sharply increased engine displacement in both sixes and V8's gives you a power family unsurpassed in the light-duty field. Specifically, we offer 14.4% GREATER displacement on 6-cylinder models, 16.2% on V8's than our nearest competitors. And GMC V8's, mind you, match the shortest stroke ratios in the truck industry.

Styling is well into the future—panoramic windshield to sand-tight tail gate. Tubeless tires, of course. And a 12-volt electrical system is standard. These are some of the strides presented in new 1956 Blue Chip trucks we now have on view. The values are even more notable. Come in and get the facts!

*Standard on Suburban; optional at slight extra cost on other 1/2-ton models

Introducing Lever Brothers' new non-dairy spread for bread!

Imperial

Keep in refrigerator to protect perfect flavor

THE FIRST MARGARINE
UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED TO TASTE LIKE
THE HIGH-PRICED SPREAD!

All you need to do is try it once! You can taste that Imperial is a completely new kind of margarine... a product so superior that it carries a guarantee never before made in all of margarine history. But then, there's never been a margarine like it! Imperial is the first margarine unconditionally guaranteed to bring you the tantalizing flavor formerly found only in the expensive spread for bread.

Imperial's Got That Flavor

Flavor is what's been missing in margarine. And flavor is what Lever Brothers devoted seven years to achieve... seven years of testing formula after formula to bring you the incomparable flavor of the expensive spread for bread. It wasn't hard to make Imperial spread smoother and easier than any other margarine. And it wasn't hard to make Imperial as nutritious as even the most expensive spread you can buy. The trick was flavor. And Imperial is the first margarine to capture and hold that unmistakable flavor everybody loves.

Tastes Like the High-Priced Spread

We know you may find it hard to believe that a margarine could live up to all we claim for Imperial. So, we want you to give Imperial the toughest tests you know. Spread Imperial on bread or toast...use it for seasoning vegetables...plop a generous chunk of Imperial in your frying pan and set it sizzling with eggs for your fussy husband. Any way, and every way, new Imperial tastes like the high-priced spread.

Aroma to Match That Flavor

Imperial's superiority shows itself in many ways—as a matter of fact—in every way you use it. For instance, when you fry with Imperial, just lean over and sniff its sweet, fresh goodness. Imperial smells so good it makes you hungry just watching it melt. Hot or cold, in your frying pan, or spread on bread, Imperial is the one margarine you'll never have to make excuses for—no matter how fussy the company.

You Agree, or We Return Your Money!

Try Imperial and see. Remember—when you take home a pound of Imperial, you're not buying, you're just trying. Because Lever Brothers unconditionally guarantees Imperial will taste like the high-priced spread to you, or they'll return every penny you spent to try it.

P.S. Like the high-priced spread, Imperial is delicate and perishable. So to protect its perfect flavor, always keep Imperial in your refrigerator!

DON'T CHANGE YOUR TASTE! JUST CHANGE TO IMPERIAL!
IMPERIAL'S GOT THAT FLAVOR!

State Sets Up Plan to Prevent Purchase of Inferior Hospital Drugs

SPRINGFIELD — State officials moved today to prevent further purchase of inferior and ineffective drugs for state hospitals and other institutions.

State Purchasing Agent Vernon R. Forgue said a new program will prevent "back alley pill shops," working with no means of insuring quality of their products, from doing business with the state.

Illinois each year purchases large quantities of drugs for its mental hospitals, tuberculosis sanitariums and prison hospitals. Previously, competitive bids made on state drug procurement contracts had to be accepted because there was no way of checking drug quality.

Forgue said a committee of doctors and state hospital superintendents last May entered vigorous complaints about the unsatisfactory drugs supplied under state purchasing contracts.

Must Meet Standards

He said federal drug regulations imposed adequate standards on firms operating in interstate commerce, but the "back alley shops" operated under no uniform standards to insure quality and purity on intrastate sales.

The purchasing officer said under terms of the law permitting "quality" to be considered when accepting bids on state purchases, he has instituted recognized standards in drug manufacture as a requirement for bidding.

He said if drug manufacturers could show they had met federal standards in producing their products, no further state standards would be imposed.

But from small manufacturers who have not, Forgue's office requires they make application to be included in an "acceptable manufacturers" list, and thus may be included in a certified "acceptable bidders" list.

"A Forward Step"

To become qualified as acceptable manufacturers, other drug producers have to show they have a quality control system, which includes specified analysis of raw materials, a formula control system, and batch quality control system. Laboratory analysis of each batch of drugs has to indicate adequate purity and quality.

An inspection system has been set up to inspect drug producing operations. The manufacturer is required to authorize periodic inspections before being certified for the acceptable manufacturers list.

"If the manufacturer doesn't have such a quality and purity control system, he himself doesn't know if his product meets industry standards, and certainly we can't know," Forgue said.

The control plan also prevents a bidder from purchasing old stocks of bankrupt drug stores and selling them to the state, where age may have deteriorated their quality.

Forgue said the industry "in general" agrees on the state control plan, and he considered it "a forward step" in insuring quality drugs for state use.

Lucy hesitated. Then: "I just called to see if there is anything I can do. Nellie is all alone now, and I'll be glad to help in any way I can."

"That's very kind of you, but Abner Cornwallis is bringing a lady named Sarah Allbach to stay here for a while."

"Oh, yes. Sarah took care of Mother when she had the flu last winter." She hesitated again. "Won't you tell me why Wilbur did it?"

"It's a long story," I said a trifle wearily. "Ask Dr. Jarrett -- he knows all about it." "I'm afraid that's impossible," she said coolly. "I suppose you're wondering what I was doing at his office tonight?"

"I hadn't thought about it." "He asked me to come over. Said it was important. It was the same story--he pleaded with me to go away with him. I told him I wouldn't. Then you arrived, and I left--but I don't know why I'm bothering you with this."

"Sometimes it helps to talk about things. I'm sorry about you and the doctor." "Don't be," she said in a brittle voice. "He's still in love with Alice. He'll always be in love with her, and I would always be--be second choice. That's plain to me--now. I can't live with a man who's in love with a--a ghost."

We said goodbye.

When I turned I saw that Nellie Tweed was awake and watching me silently. I moved to the leather chair and sat down. "I'm sorry the phone awakened you."

I leaned back in the chair and crossed my legs. As I did so, I saw that there were still a few gray cat hairs clinging to the blue flannel of my trousers. I thought of Alice Osborn's cat, the cat I'd named Rosemary, and I hoped that she would be happy in her new home at the county jail. Carefully I picked the hairs from the flannel, and then leaned back again.

She was lying on her side facing me, her head resting on one upraised arm. In the sweater and blue jeans and under the soft light she was a pleasing and almost youthful sight. Maybe the absence of her dark-rimmed glasses added to the illusion.

"He used my gun," she said, and her voice broke. "I--I hate that."

"Don't blame yourself," I said. She sighed deeply, turned on her back and gazed at the ceiling. Wilbur must have taken the gun from her room, she said, from the closet where she kept it. Her father had given it to her years ago, when she was 12 years old, because she liked to hunt in the woods with him. A rifle to a kid in the woods, I had learned, was as common as coaster wagons and doll buggies were to kids in more urban areas.

I gazed at her, at the soft shadowed planes of her face, and at her rather angular body clad in the sweater and the blue jeans. There was a little dried mud on one cuff of the jeans--and I saw something else. Slowly I sat up, feeling a kind of cold numbness in the back of my brain. I leaned forward, peering intently, and I knew that I was not mistaken.

On one leg of the jeans, just above the ankle, there was a matted cluster of gray cat hairs.

I said softly, "You killed Alice, didn't you?"

A kind of dreaminess was in her eyes. She gazed at the ceiling and spoke in a sing-song voice. "What did you say?"

"Tell me about it, Nellie," I said. "Tell me how you killed Alice, because you couldn't bear to have her marry Wilbur. Tell me how your brother was all you had left, after your sweetheart was killed, and how you buried yourself in mothering Wilbur, and how you couldn't stand to have another woman here, not in your little dream world. Tell me all about it, Nellie."

She turned her head and now her gaze was direct and sane. "Whatever are you talking about, Mr. Bennett?" she asked calmly. "Would you mind repeating what you just said?"

"You heard me," I said with sudden harshness.

I watched her off with a forearm and she stumbled past me and almost fell. She whirled and came for me again and the wildcat look was in her eyes. Fingernails raked my cheek and for a couple of seconds I had my hands full just trying to save my eyes. She was amazingly strong and fought savagely and silently. It is embarrassing and degrading to be forced to struggle physically with a woman in anger, and I remembered similar previous encounters with distaste and shame. But sometimes, like now, it can't be helped, and I held her off, hoping that she would give up.

But she didn't. Quickly and cunningly she twisted from my grasp. When I hit her again it was truly in self-defense. I hit her, on the left cheek with my open palm and there wasn't time to be careful about it. It jarred her. I used a fist then, and that did it. She fell away from me with a sharp little moan. I tried to catch her, but I missed. She hit the floor and lay quite still.

I got out a handkerchief, dabbed at my cheek and then wrapped it around my wrist where she'd bit me.

Then I knelt over Nellie Tweed and placed two fingers beneath her throat, just under her right ear. Her pulse was strong and regular. I was thinking of finding a bathroom and bringing a towel soaked in cold water, when her eyes opened. She stared up at me.

"You're all right," I said. "I'm sorry I had to hit you." "Doyle," she said. "I dreamed you were Doyle. It--it was silly. Doyle is dead."

Being too Helpful On Phone Isn't Good

CHICAGO — The person who's too helpful on the telephone may slow business down as much as the person who's not helpful enough, the Civil Service Assembly warns.

The assembly, concerned because much of the business of government is done over the telephone, includes "don't be too helpful" among its list of "don'ts" on telephone manners.

When you've answered your caller's question about what date taxes are due, Civil Service Assembly advises, don't go on to give an unwanted discourse on the reasons for the change from last year's date to this year's.

You'll merely be wasting your time and the time of your caller.

Other "don'ts" on the assembly list:

Don't yell into the telephone.

Don't eat, put on lipstick, chew a pencil or clench a cigar while talking.

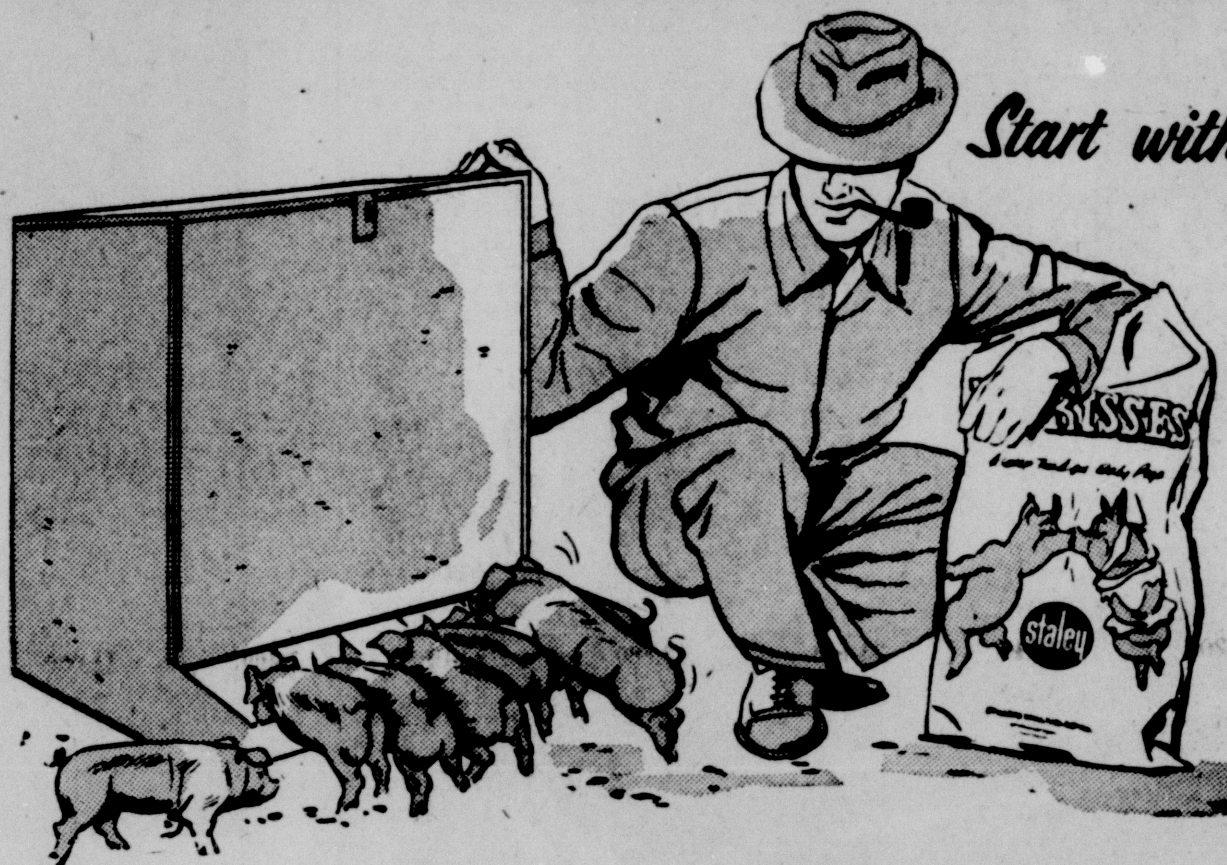

Don't unhook the phone to stop its ringing and leave it unanswered.

Don't pick up the receiver and then try to think of the number you want to call.

Don't let the person on the other end of the line wait and wait while you dig up the information he asked. Better let him hang up and call him back later.

This Staley Pig Program CUTS COSTS and SAVES PIGS!

Start with Pig Kisses After Farrowing

Within two or three days after farrowing, start feeding Staley Pig Kisses in a creep. Each individual Pig Kisses pellet is thickly-coated with sugar, just like frosting on a cake.

That's why pigs start eating Kisses long before they'll eat ordinary feeds. And Pig Kisses supply pigs with powerful antibiotics and vitamins during the critical first few weeks when most death losses occur. This is the time when runts are made, too -- and Kisses will help eliminate runts and scouring, "poor-doing" pigs in every litter!

NEW, IMPROVED FORMULA SAVES MONEY AND FEED --

Today's Pig Kisses are more powerful than ever before -- so powerful, in fact, that instead of one 50-lb. sack for each 3 pigs, we recommend only one 50-lb. sack for 5 pigs -- two sacks will easily supply the average litter! Always a bargain, Pig Kisses today are a bigger bargain than ever before!

Change to Pig Mama and Grain at 5 Weeks

By the time your pigs are 4 to 5 weeks old, they should weigh as much as many pigs do at two months -- thanks to Pig Kisses! This is the time to change them to Staley's Pig MAMA with grain to cut your feed costs and maintain the same fast rate of gain.

Feed PIG MAMA 50-50 with grain, and let the pigs eat right along with the sow. Or, if you want to, you can safely take the pigs off the sow and re-breed her for an extra litter.

Staley's PIG MAMA contains the same powerful combination of antibiotics and vitamins used in Pig Kisses, but costs you less because grain makes up half the total ration. At 8 weeks, change pigs gradually to Staley's PRO-LASS Hog Supplement with grain or pasture to further reduce your out-of-pocket feed costs.

See Your Local Staley Feed Dealer Today!

The Staley pig program outlined on this page will give you amazing feed conversion -- as much as a pound of gain for 1 1/2 lb. of feed. Figure it out -- this means that each pound of pork costs only 6c to 8c at this age! This Staley program will also help you to eliminate death losses, runts, scours and poor-doing pigs.

Remember that a few pounds of Pig Kisses or Pig MAMA fed to young pigs will put more dollars in your pocket than a sack of hog supplement fed to 100 lb. shoats.

WE'LL HELP YOU FINANCE YOUR FEED -- See your local Staley feed dealer today -- ask him about Staley's pig program. And if you need help in financing your feed, ask him about the Staley contract plan, whereby responsible feeders can buy feed on contract from farrowing to market. Do it today!

The valuation of each class of property in Saline County as same was assessed by local assessors and revised by the Board of Review for each township and for the county as a whole is shown above. For tax extension purposes those values will be multiplied by 5.2632, the multiplier certified to this county by the State Department of Revenue.

Those figures do not include railroad and capital stock valuations as those are assessed by the State Department of Revenue at 100% and certified to this county.

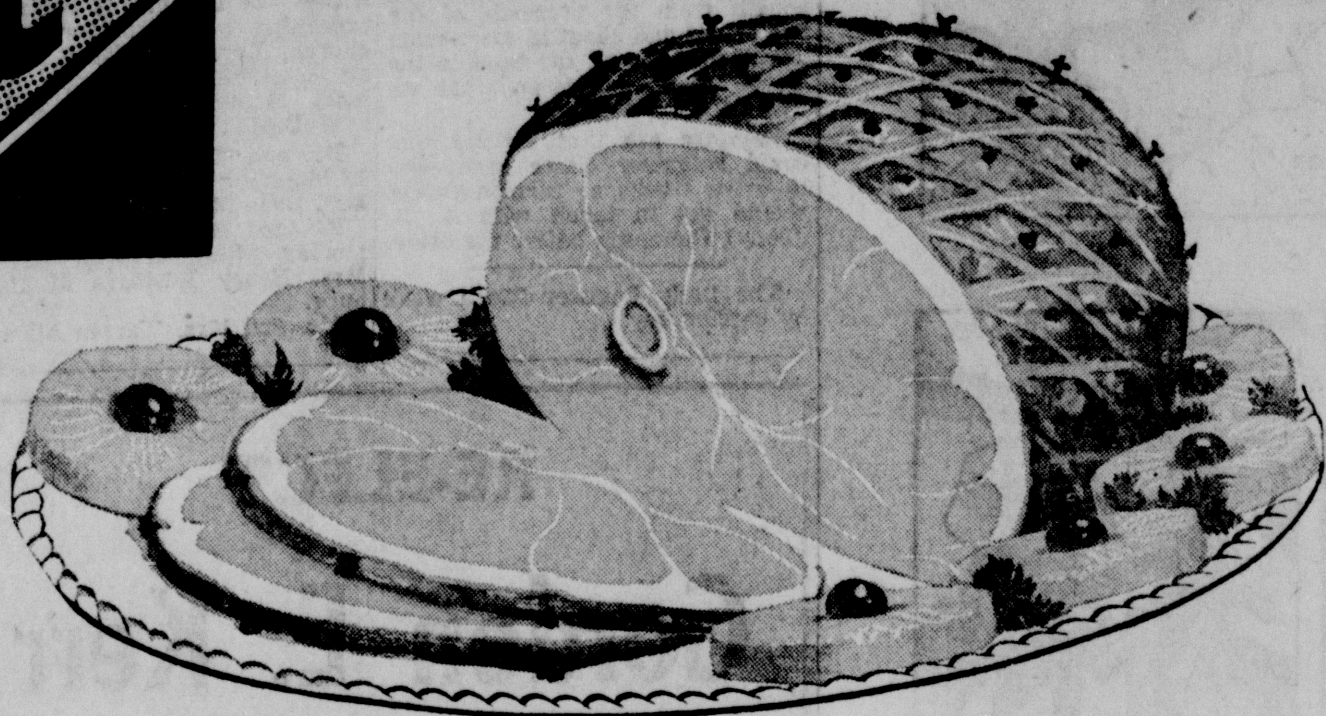

The total assessed valuation for tax extension purposes in any taxing unit is the total of the local assessment as revised by the Board of Review multiplied by 5.2632 and the railroad and capital stock valuation as certified to this county.

Due to the widespread interest in the assessments in the various townships and the manner in which assessed valuations for tax extension purposes are determined this publication was authorized by the Board of Supervisors of Saline County, Illinois.

A New Auto Doesn't Always Mean Happiness

AUBURN, Me. — Few frustrations are as great as that experienced by a young bachelor with a slick new convertible that he can't put on the road.

Scott Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Jordan, was awarded an electrically powered miniature car by an automobile agency as a promotion stunt.

Police told the boy he can't use it on the streets and comply with the law. And sidewalks are for pedestrians.

Scott has had to settle for motor in his backyard.

TALES OF EGYPT:

The Legend of Hooven Hollow

By L. A. Dearing

Down on Rock Creek, in Hardin county, Hooven Hollow is one of those valleys that are so "deep, so dark and hideous 'crows wuz feared ter fly across 'em.'" On the south side of this hollow is a 75-foot cliff, in the face of which there is—or was—a natural cave, which consisted of two or three rooms and had at least two outlets. This was one of the "Seven Secret Caves" on Rock Creek and was used, so it has been claimed, by the notorious Potts Hill "gang" for making counterfeit money. Hooven Hollow was not, it seems, a nice place; nevertheless, it is the site of our story, in which there is also involved a most peculiar rain storm, a hidden fortune, a serviceberry bush, a hickory sapling, a forest fire, some mysterious people clothed in white, a leap from the 75-foot cliff and the woman who made that leap.

Anna Pierce - Hobbs - Bixby, a niece of President Pierce, was, according to the source, a midwife and herb doctor, or the best physician that the time provided. Since Dr. Anna, as she was often called, was paid for her professional services, and also received a good income from a prospering farm which had been left to her by the death of her first husband, Isaac Hobbs, local gossip was quite sure that she had a tidy fortune hidden away in some secret place. When Anna married Eson Bixby, this was not at all according to her character, because Eson was said to have been a member of the Potts Hill gang. This second marriage was not successful. There were separations and reconciliations until finally Anna gave Eson a sum of money, on condition that he leave and never bother her again—the money and condition being accepted.

Leaps From Cliff

On a dark night the following autumn a messenger called for Anna to attend the sick wife of a newcomer in the community. When their road took them near the cliff at Hooven Hollow, the messenger revealed himself to be none other than Eson Bixby—her estranged husband—and then announced that he intended to keep Anna confined in the cave below until she disclosed the hiding place of her fortune. Eson quickly tied Anna's hands but she jerked free and, rushing to the edge of the cliff, leaped into space.

It was a quarter of a mile to a place of descent and, when Eson had made the double distance, he found no trace of his wife. To provide light while he searched for her, he set fire to the dry leaf-bed of the forest floor. In her leap Anna had landed in a serviceberry bush which grew high upon the cliff and had slithered down a leaning hickory sapling. Cut, bruised and shaken she had made her way some three hundred yards down to the creek, where she hovered in the shadows and prayed as the fierce flames rushed toward her. While she prayed Anna felt the sharp sting of wind-driven rain. For a few short moments the rain fell in torrents, until the fire was extinguished, and then the storm ended. It was later reported that during that night in all Hardin county rain fell only on this small area in Hooven Hollow.

Follows Mysterious Guides

After her second escape from her abductor, Anna now faced a new dilemma — she had lost her sense of direction. While she pondered with this problem, she saw in the near distance several people all clothed in white. Knowing that Eson was still searching for her, Anna dared not call out—so she started towards these strangers. As she approached they moved away and she had no other recourse but to follow. Her mysterious guides soon led her to a place that she recognized and, when she began to thank them, she saw them vanish as quickly and as silently as they had appeared. In a few moments Anna had reached the home of friends where her cuts and bruises were given tender treatment.

Word of her tragic experience was soon spread through the Rock Creek community and a search was made for Eson Bixby. But Eson had disappeared and was never again seen in Hardin county. According to reports from along Rock Creek, Anna's fortune has never been found. Should the reader be interested, it will do no good to search at Bixby's cave, as the place is now known—several years ago some treasure hunters tried to blast open an inner room and literally brought down the roof.

A Performance Sensation... A Fashion First!

There's an all-new way to measure automobile performance—and that's to measure it against Pontiac!

For Pontiac performance outstrips in a breeze any other on the road. And it didn't just happen! Pontiac engineers started from scratch with a brand-new Strato-Streak V-8 engine.

Then they added another triumph, the all-new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic* especially engineered to work as a super-efficient team with Strato-Streak power!

And what a team it is! There's the blazing "go" of 227 horsepower born in the most modern, high-compression, high-torque engine you can buy!

There's the incredible smoothness of Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic's liquid coupling and the instant, positive action of its gears.

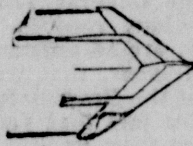

No wonder they're calling Pontiac America's No. 1 spine-tingler! You will, too, when you see how it tames traffic and shrinks the miles.

Just as forward looking as the engineers, Pontiac designers set an equally new trend in styling . . . obviously branded with the stamp of the future.

Surprisingly, all this one-of-a-kind performance and style is priced well within the reach of any new-car buyer. We invite you to come in soon for the facts. You'll take a big step ahead when you do!

*An extra-cost option.

You can actually buy a big, glamorous Pontiac for less than you would pay for 43 models of the low-priced three!

Sgt. York's Son Has AF Career

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — (AP) — The son of World War I hero Sgt. Alvin York is stationed at Lackland Air Force Base and hopes to pursue a career in the Air Force. The son, 18-year-old Thomas Jefferson York, said he is convinced a career as an Air Force cook allows plenty of opportunity for advancement and plenty of time for learning a worthwhile occupation. The York home is on a farm near Wolf River, Tenn. There, the son used to go hunting with his famous father, a renowned rifleman even before he began his World War I military service. "I'm a pretty good shot, too," young York said, "but not as good as my father."

The only son in the York family said he preferred a shotgun to a rifle on hunting trips.

The elder York became ill two years ago and is confined to a wheel chair. He was called the nation's No. 1 soldier in World War I after he killed 25 Germans and captured 132 in the Argonne Forest.

Young York has been assigned to Flight 168 of the 3704th Basic Military Training Squadron. He was sworn in by Tennessee Gov. Frank Clement and flew here in a commercial airliner. He attended York Institute at Jamestown, Tenn., and worked on his father's farm before volunteering for Air Force service.

Expect Record Crowd at Bald Knob Services

MAKANDA, Ill. — Worshippers from at least seven states will gather atop Bald Knob Mountain this Sunday for the 20th annual Easter sunrise service.

Parking areas have been tripled on the summit of the 1,034 foot mountain in the expectation that fair weather will attract a record crowd of people of all denominations.

Previous services have drawn 6,000 or more but Wayman Presley, a rural mail carrier who is executive secretary of the Bald Knob Christian Foundation, said arrangements had been made to accommodate many more visitors on the 200-acre mountain top. U. S. Forest Service employees have been busy grading a road leading to the parking area, less than two blocks from the natural hillside amphitheater where services are conducted.

Between 300 and 400 white crosses will be used as road markers on all the main arteries near Bald Knob Mountain which is near Alto Pass, 80 miles southeast of St. Louis. The 6 a. m. services will be held on the spot where the Bald Knob Christian Foundation hopes to erect the world's largest cross, a 500-foot structure which could be seen from the air at a distance of 150 miles.

Principal speaker this year will be Daniel Poling, New York; editor of the Christian Herald magazine and president of the World Christian Endeavor Union. Also on the program will be Dr. Laurence A. Jones, the "Little Professor" who founded the Piney Woods, Miss., Country Life School.

The 60-voice Evansville (Ind.) College Choir, under Mrs. Wesley Shepard, will sing at the services which will be directed by the Rev. A. D. VanHoose, founder and director of the Evansville, Ind., Radio Tabernacle.

Among the guests will be Dr. Kenneth Wells, president of the Freedom's Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs, which is centering its Religious Emphasis Week around the Bald Knob Foundation's efforts to build the $3,000,000 cross, will be represented by several national and state officers, including Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman, national president.

Other Federation officers coming to the services are: Mrs. J. U. Knox, Nashville, Tenn., national chairman of the Religious Division's General Board; Mrs. Walter N. Sutherland, Kennilworth, first vice-president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Albert E. Powers, Manchester, Ill., state chairman of the American Home Department.

The services will be broadcast over KMOX, St. Louis, and WGGH, Marion, Ill., from 6 a. m. to 7 a. m., and tape recordings will be made for possible future use by the CBS network.

At present, three 10 foot wooden crosses mark the site of the annual services and the spot where the Foundation hopes to erect a 50-

PROGRESSIVE MINE WORKERS OF AMERICA

DISTRICT NO. 1
January 25, 1956

Dear Representative Powell: The Progressive Mine Workers of America as an organization, has refrained in past years from making political endorsements prior to state primaries. However, your record in the last session of the General Assembly, added to your previous records in the General Assembly, are so outstanding as regards organized labor, that we three resident officers of the Progressive Mine Workers of America feel that you are entitled to some word from us.

We three feel that the citizens of the 59th District which you have so ably represented in the past should return you to the next session of the General Assembly by an overwhelming majority. STATE OFFICIAL

I want to say that the Democratic Party and the State Administration should be very proud of the way you conducted the arduous task of Speaker of the House of Representatives. It has been the unanimous acclaim of the members of both parties that your job was an excellent one.

TAXPAYERS

We appreciate very much the fact that you led the fight against the increase in the State sales tax, against taking away from the people their right to vote on the city sales tax, against giving cities the power to impose a tax on public utility bills without referendum, and the help you gave against the bad bill to make the Prevailing Wage Act apply to work performed by regular employees of local governments which would have cost the taxpayers millions of dollars had it been enacted.

We appreciate perhaps most of all the fact that any time Paul Powell gave his word, Paul Powell kept his word.
